ADDRESS.

I N view of the many additions made to this collection, from time to time, it seems advisable to again call the attention of Architects, Art Associations, and the public generally to my new Catalogue.

It will be found fuller and more complete than any previous issue, and I hope will be of service in making up orders.

The collection has very recently been added to considerably by large importations from London, Paris, Rome, Pompeii, Florence, Berlin, and elsewhere, of the finest works of Art, both antique and modern, and, I believe, will certainly well repay a personal examination.

Newly imported, a number of statues from London, Pompeii, and Paris; modern busts by Carpeaux, Panels of Fruits, Flowers and Leaves, from Paris; Arms, Legs, Hands, Feet, Animals and miscellaneous casts not to be had elsewhere in the United States.

By the use of skilled workmanship, and careful attention in the manufacture of my moulds, I am enabled to offer copies that are believed to be superior, in truthfulness and artistic finish, to any manufactured elsewhere in the United States.

At the same time I would thank my patrons and the public generally for the liberal encouragement which I have received during the past year, and humbly submitting the contents for your inspection, I hope to merit a continuance of your favors.

Respectfully,

L. CASTELVECCHI,

143 Grand Street,
